

Kindness Is Never Wasted

There once was a hardworking, happy and carefree caterpillar who lived in a forest. One day while the caterpillar was trying to shimmy its way across a tree branch it met a dog who was walking below.

"Where are you going?" asked the caterpillar.

"I'M IN A HURRY GO AWAY!" the dog replied in a mean tone.

"Hey, can I help you, I would really like to help you."

The caterpillar said in a louder voice.

"If you don't go away you'll be my DINNER!!" snapped the dog.

As the dog turned around and ran away as fast he could, the rustling leaves beneath the tree scattered around on the ground.

As the dog reached his den he felt lonely and sad about the nasty attitude he gave to the caterpillar.

The next day the dog and the caterpillar met again but this time the dog had not changed despite his attitude.

The caterpillar opened its mouth to speak but the dog stopped him.

"Yo caterpillar, there's a nice place for caterpillars like you, it's across the forest, apparently it's like paradise for caterpillars."

The caterpillar was interested, he shimmied its way across to a branch near the dog.

"Oh that sounds nice." said the caterpillar "How do I get there?"

The dog made a gesture with his tail that pointed towards the hollow he just came out of.

"Go straight in that direction and you should meet your destination."

The caterpillar was delighted because his trees leaves would die out in the winter, so the caterpillar accepted the adventure.

"Do you want to come with me?." offered the caterpillar

The dog now delighted but hid it very well beneath his frown.

"Fine." muttered the dog.

"Thank you" the caterpillar replied,

Throughout the whole journey the caterpillar and the dog made their relationship better, when the caterpillar reached the destination.

"I'm sorry about being rude to you all those days ago." said the dog "Can we be friends?"

The caterpillar responded "I forgive you, let's be friends.." and was excited to make a new friend.

After they became friends the dog stayed in a hollow they had found beside the 'Caterpillars paradise' and then they lived and had happy lives.

Moral; kindness is never wasted.
